LUND.

Lund, Utah, July 13, 1916.
We have been threatened with rain for several days, but it passed over and won't do much good now, as the crops are too far gone, which is not very encouraging for our dry farmers.

On June 9th Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barton and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Carter went over to Richfield in one of the big mail trucks. They were taking it up to be repaired. They were gone nearly three weeks and report having a most enjoyable time, going up Red Creek Canyon, over through Beaver Valley, down through Circleville and Marysville and came back through Clear Creek Canyon, by Cove Fort and south through Milford. They made the trip back in 8 hours.

The Lund ball team had a fine time in Parowan and came almost being the champions. The boys feel like they will try Cedar a round again and hope to come out winners.

POLITICAL SIDE-LIGHTS.

Next month the state republican convention will convene in Ogden for the naming of the state ticket, and the liveliest kind of a session is looked for. The so-called business interests of Salt Lake and Ogden will be present in full strength, determined to inflict Governor Spry and other enemies of prohibition and progressive legislation upon the party, even at the imminent risk of defeating the party at the polls. The delegates from the outlying districts will principally go instructed to work for a platform and ticket favorable to prohibition and other progressive legislation. It will not take long after the convention opens to decide which faction is in the majority, but the fight is likely to be attended with some bitterness, especially on the part of the side found to be in the minority. It will be a question as to whether the people or the machine will govern.

We presume there will be no question as to the right to the county representativeness being conceded to Cedar City in the coming county election, so far as the republican party is concerned. Parowan has enjoyed this honor for the last three terms, and it would hardly be modest or reasonable for them to ask for it again this time. We therefore refuse to take any stock in the intimations that have been circulated to the effect that Hon. Wilford Day would be a candidate to succeed himself. Mr. Day has made a good representative, has wielded a powerful influence and accomplished a great deal of good for Iron county, and has the approbation, in the great majority of his official acts, of his constituents. But because of this it does not follow that there are not other good men in Iron county, and we believe that Mr. Day and other broad men of the county will concede that the honor this year should come farther west.

As already announced, J. S. Woodbury of this city is a candidate for legislative honors before the county republican convention, and we have heard a good many expressions of approval of his candidacy locally, not only from Republican sources, but from Democrats as well. We have also recently been informed that Mr. Richard A. Thorley is a receptive candidate for this honor, and that a number of his friends are working energetically to bring about his nomination. It looks as if the race in the republican convention would be between Mr. Woodbury and Mr. Thorley.

The present indications are that the race for gubernatorial honors before the republican state convention will be between the present incumbent of the office, Governor William Spry, Nephi L. Morris and Edward Jenkins. Spry represents the anti-prohibition element, while both of the others are said to bear the prohibition stamp. This being the case, friends of temperance are in hopes that in the event of a deadlock between the three, one of the temperance candidates will withdraw and throw his strength to the other, thereby effecting his nomination. It is our opinion that Nephi L. Morris is the best man for the place who has yet announced himself.

Not much is being said yet as to who will be candidates for county offices. It is likely that a number of the present officials will be out to succeed themselves, and the voters could do far worse than to continue the majority of the present official family in office. One of the officials that is receiving a lot of favorable comment and whom the voters will without a doubt be glad to return to office, if he consents to run, is Sheriff John H. Corry. Mr. Corry has made a good record the past term, and has shown himself worthy of the support of the people. But Mr. Corry says that the present salary of the office is not commensurate with the duties required, and has not decided whether or not he will allow his name to go before the convention.

THE RECORD wishes to reiterate its statement made some time ago that there is not a more competent and deserving state official in the capitol building today than Mr. Jesse Jewkes, the state treasurer, who will be a candidate before the republican state convention for the office of secretary of state. The people of Utah cannot do better than to elect Mr. Jewkes to this important office, either.

State Senator D. O. Rideout has swelled the collection of gubernatorial timber by announcing himself a candidate before the Republican State convention for this honor. Mr. Rideout is now touring the southern counties in the interests of his candidacy, and a little folder which is being distributed gives a fair introduction to the candidate, who has a good record in the state legislature, being the author of a number of good measures, and is known as a real friend of prohibition, public utilities commission and other advanced ideas in legislation. Without doubt the members of Mr. Rideout's party could go farther and do worse. How much strength he will be able to develop at the convention is problematical.

As candidates for the governorship before the democratic convention, two names are being frequently mentioned—those of A. W. McCune, the Peruvian magnate, and Judge Joshua Greenwood of this district. It is pointed out that a supply of the sinews of war will be required if Governor Wm. Spry is nominated by the saloon element and the Republican ticket, and that one month of Mr. McCune's income would take care of the Democratic campaign in this state in good shape. While Judge Greenwood would not be as valuable an aid from a financial point of view, he is regarded by many members of his party, particularly in this judicial district, as a more capable man for the office, and there are many more improbable things than that Greenwood should secure the nomination.

The Parowan Times is authority for the statement that George W. Decker, the principal for a number of years of the Branch Normal School at this place, will be a candidate before the democratic county convention for county representative to the state legislature. Local democrats also confirm the report. Mr. Decker has a host of warm friends throughout the county, and will undoubtedly poll a heavy vote, and if elected will be a tireless worker for what he believes to be for the best interests of his constituency. There are just two things, as we see it, that might militate against his chances for success. The one is a pretty strong republican majority in the county, and the other is the fact that his home is now for the most part in Parowan, notwithstanding he still has property here, and there seems to be a pretty general feeling that Cedar City is entitled to the honors of this position for a term or two. But Mr. Decker is one of the staunchest workers in the state on the side of morals and social improvements. In looking over the list of suitable material for legislative honors it seems that we have a surplus here and we only regret that we are not able to loan some of it to other counties which, assuming that the representation sent at some previous legislatures stood for their best available timber, are certainly very much lacking in this respect.

It is learned that Ashton Jones, who has been in the Eastern States mission for the past 28 months, has received the notice of his release and is expected home at any time.

Biliousness and Stomach Trouble.
"Two years ago I suffered from frequent attacks of stomach trouble and biliousness," writes Miss Emma Verbyrke, Lima, Ohio. "I could eat very little food that agreed with me and I became so dizzy and sick at my stomach at times that I had to take hold of something to keep from falling. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets advertised I decided to try them. I improved rapidly." Obtainable everywhere.

A Home For Your Car

Here's a garage that will be a credit to any place. It isn't expensive to build, yet it combines all the good points of a complete home for the car. Wouldn't you like to have it to round out your group of buildings?

You'll notice, first of all, that good lighting has been provided for. You'll appreciate this feature more when you come to do a few jobs of repair work on a stormy day. The work bench is another convenience.

You're working at a disadvantage if you haven't a garage. Don't be without one.

Luck In Chunks

Some people never fail to bend their backs to pick up a pin, and yet the dollars slip right through their fingers, without even a blink. They grasp at the shadow while the substance marches by. If the point of the pin is facing you it is supposed to be good luck to pick it up.

But there are greater opportunities for "luck" than in stooping your shoulders in a futile search for pins. Deposit your dollars with us and we will show you how to find luck in big chunks and pick up dollars instead of pins. It is a part of our business to know a good investment when we see it and we are always willing to recommend it to a depositor. Forget the pins and go after bigger game.
